In the Spirit of Jesus

The best commentary on the first part of today's Gospel is a story about Abraham Lincoln, who was the finest and most spiritual of all the American presidents. During the Civil War, Lincoln was often criticized for not being severe enough on the soldiers of the South. On one occasion after a battle, a general from the North asked him, "Why didn't you destroy the enemy when you had the chance? President Lincoln answered with words adapted from the today's Gospel passage: "Do I not destroy my enemy by making him my friend?" That is exactly what Jesus tells us in today's Gospel: destroy our enemies by making them our friends. No doubt the feelings of anger and resentment run deep in many hearts today, and we wouldn't mind if people who hurt us deeply were punished or suffered from bad luck. Jesus, however, says: "That is not my Spirit" -- let me heal your heart.
