Fr John Heinhold takes up new appointment.

In the past week, Fr John Heinhold took up his new appointment as curate in the parishes of Blackpool, the Cathedral, and Sunday's Well. On behalf of the parish community of Glanmire, I wish him every blessing and happiness in his new post. His transfer from the parishes of Glanmire and Glounthaune took us by surprise. He had been here only three years and both his parents, Werner and Jane, passed away earlier this year. Fr John will be missed. His quiet and prayerful presence showed us he knew what he was about as a priest. His care of people was sensitive and generous. His commitment to the sacramental life in the church and in the schools was deep and engaged. He managed to combine work in two parishes with balance and energy. He developed viable rotas and schedules that will serve both parishes long into the future. He appreciated the contribution of parishioners and encouraged lay participation in the parish. He prepared the liturgy and his homilies with care and spiritual imagination. He conducted his affairs with honour. He and his dog "Rollie" became Glanmire icons so regular were their walks. I thank Fr John deeply. He is an inspiration. On my behalf, I thank John for his friendship, care and the easy way he got on with the work.
