Christ has conquered, Christ now rules

In the middle of St Peter’s square in Rome, there stands a great obelisk. It’s about four and half thousand years old and it originally stood in the temple of the sun in the Egyptian city of Heliopolis. But it was bought to Rome by the dreadful Emperor Caligula and it was set right in the middle of Circus of Nero that was on the Vatican hill. It was in that Circus that St Peter was martyred, and the obelisk may well have been the last thing on this earth that Peter saw. On top of the obelisk there now stands a cross. In ancient times there was a gold ball representing, of course, the sun. Now there is a cross, the cross of Christ, and on the pedestal of the obelisk there are two inscriptions. The first of them in Latin, “Christus vincit, Christus regnat, Christus imperat”, which translated means, Christ has conquered, Christ
