The Fruits of the Holy Spirit

How do you recognise the fruits of the Holy Spirit in your life. One way is to think of someone in your life who shows the fruits of the spirit in action.

Maybe it is your Mum or Dad or grandmother or grandfather or all of them. Think of the way they love you unconditionally.

Think of a person who is always or mostly joyful and when you meet them you feel better afterwards.

Think of a person who is at peace with themselves even though their life is tough.

Think of a person who is kind, not just because they give you something but because they are there for you, they give you their time.

All these people that you have started to think about may also be patient with you, faithful to you when things get rough, gentle with you when others are nasty, and these people are invariably self controlled. They are consistent, they do not change with the latest whim.

You may have been thinking about one person or may be lucky enough to know and have many people in your life who show the fruits of the Holy Spirit. Treasure them. And of course, you may be a person that others recognise as having some or all of these attributes. If you let the Holy Spirit become a more obvious presence in your life then the fruits of the Spirit will become a reality for you.

Each evening during the month of May the rosary will be recited at the Grotto at 7.30 pm.

Congratulations to the children of Gael Scoil Uí Drisceoil who received their First Holy Communion yesterday.

Best wishes to the children of St Joseph's School, Riverstown who will receive their First Holy Communion on Saturday next.

Next children's Mass in St Joseph's Church will be Saturday 28th May at 6 pm.

2nd Collection today is the Annual Diocesan Collection for Mission and Ministry. The Mission and Ministry Office will support/resource parishes and Families of Parishes with training and facilitate once-off workshops in the various ministries.

Please return your Trocáire box to the sacristy or, the office.
